

TRIAL TECHNOLOGY CONSULTING AND TRIALMAX®

FTI Consulting Trial Services consultants have been using technology in the courtroom for more than 15 years to help clients tell their stories with clarity and impact. Our proprietary trial presentation solution, TrialMax®, was developed based upon the experience and input of our trial technology consultants working with many of the top litigators in the country, gleaned from thousands of trials, arbitrations and hearings.

SERVICE HIGHLIGHTS

- Best-of-breed courtroom presentation solutions
- Deep bench of experienced trial technology consultants
- TrialMax trial preparation and presentation software refined with client input
- Extensive experience supporting high profile, high stakes and serial litigation

Our team of more than 25 trial technology consultants recommend, implement and operate hardware and software solutions for the courtroom and war room, allowing trial teams to focus on trial preparation. Our experience in trial presentation allows our consultants to integrate easily and become a natural extension of our client's trial team.

TrialMax seamlessly integrates documents, photographs, animations, deposition video, audio and demonstrative graphics into a single trial preparation and presentation tool. We highly recommend the use of TrialMax as the trial presentation software of choice. We are, however, also experienced with a wide range of other trial presentation applications currently available and used by many law firms. We will adapt our material to be compatible with your systems and will provide technology consultants skilled in the use of such programs.

DEEP AND EXPERIENCED BENCH

Our technology consultants each have an average of eight years of consulting experience and spend 80-90% of their time at trial sites and in courtrooms. We have the resources to quickly and continuously staff everything from one-day hearings to the most demanding multi-party litigations, regardless of venue.

BEST OF CLASS RESOURCES AND EQUIPMENT

We have supported thousands of trials and maintain a database of courtroom diagrams and venue-specific information from literally every state in the nation. In addition, we work closely with a national equipment vendor that provides war room and courtroom equipment to our build-specifications, providing the latest equipment to our clients that is consistently configured to ensure stability during trial. Our size and the number of trials we support each year allow us to negotiate competitive rates which we pass along to our clients.

STRAIGHTFORWARD BILLING MODEL

We generally bill on a time and materials basis for on-site technology support and will accommodate requests to alternative billing models. There are no "per-click" fees for such tasks as registering documents and creating video clips. This model allows us to easily and accurately estimate and adhere to our budgets. We also have dedicated project managers who oversee billing, manage to budget, and keep clients updated every step of the way.

TRIALMAX WAR STORIES

Challenge

Add 1,500,000 pages of trial exhibits in PDF format to TrialMax database

FTI Consulting Response

Used TrialMax PDF Converter Tool to automatically convert documents

Client Benefit

Significant cost-savings by reducing consulting hours to nearly zero; no per page charges

Challenge

Opposing counsel unexpectedly invoked local rule requiring 14-day advance notice of video designations

FTI Consulting Response

With TrialMax Rapid Video Editing capabilities, we were able to create designations for both sides during the lunch break

Client Benefit

Local rule waived and key testimony presented that afternoon

Challenge

Three witnesses per day; 12 copies per binder; hundreds of exhibits per binder; paralegals not sleeping

FTI Consulting Response

Created TrialMax Witness Binder Function for use on-site in the war room

Client Benefit

Significant reduction in paralegal time and increase in sleep and productivity

TrialMax has become a staple of multi-party, bet-the-company litigation. No doubt this is due to law firms becoming ever more aware of the powerful features designed to save FTI Consulting's clients time and money.

TRIALMAX BENEFITS

No Software Fee

TrialMax is provided at no cost on matters on which Trial Services is engaged. Clients may install TrialMax on as many computers as desired.

Designations & Objections Management

TrialMax incorporates a unique feature deposition designation and objections management—a feature especially useful in serial litigation where access to work product and rulings from prior trials is critical. This feature enables trial counsel to enter objections to opposing counsel's designations, search against designations and objections, and produce color-coded reports of the same for filing with the court, saving a tremendous amount of attorney time in crafting counter-designations and objections.

Drag and Drop Functionality

Any element of your case can be dropped into a script or binder providing unparalleled organizational capability. Documents or scripts can be reordered quickly by simply dragging items from one location to another.

Customizable Document Coding

Full-featured, user-definable coding fields allow you to include an unlimited amount of data for each item in a database. Powerful and intuitive filter options allow for sophisticated searches with fast results. Data can be entered directly in TrialMax or imported from a file.

PDF Support

TrialMax lets you add a PDF document using the same method as you would to add tiff files or any other media.

Batch Importing

TrialMax allows unlimited batch importing of video designations. What used to take hours now takes minutes.

Color-Coded Video Designation Reports

Users can run reports on all video designation scripts simultaneously, creating a single file of all your clips in a case, including total running time. These reports are sophisticated and customizable to your preferences. You may also scroll color-coded text during the presentation to identify the party that created each designation (when your video clips are combined with your opponent's clips).

Online Updates

All TrialMax updates are applied by clicking "Check for Updates" on the Help Menu. This simple yet powerful process allows you to be confident that you always have the newest features at your disposal.

Load File Import Wizard

Documents may be imported from any standard load file into your TrialMax database using an intuitive Import Wizard. Flat directories of tiff files are copied into appropriately named folders during the automated process.
